

2017 Backcountry Fly Fishing Adventure

2017 Fly Fishing Adventure June 22nd - 25th

Instructor Info Justin Jordan was born and raised in Boise, ID where he still resides. Justin's love for pursuing trout with a fly rod started when he was in middle school and as soon as he received his driver's license he was figuring out how to catch a fish on a fly. This passion for the sport of fly-fishing grew in high school as he had a mentor walk beside him and helped him craft his skills. Shortly after he started college he started guiding clients during the summer for cutthroat trout and bull trout through Wapiti Meadow Ranch in Yellow Pine, ID. There he enjoyed many nights on the Middle Fork of the Salmon River in the Frank Church Wilderness of Idaho, the nation's premier cutthroat fishery. For the last 16 years, Justin's love for God's creation has grown and he now enjoys not only chasing trout with a fly, but also fly-fishing for steelhead and salmon and he also enjoys chasing bugling elk in the fall with a bow. Introducing people to God's creation and helping them fill their dreams of catching the fish of their life on a fly rod is the reason why Justin loves partnering with Deadwood Outfitters.

There will be instruction for all levels and something to challenge everyone. Plenty of 1x1 time with instructors will be provided and lots of opportunity for different types of water. There will be classroom time AND plenty of rod in hand fishing time. You will need your own float tube, rod, reel, floating line, leader, polarized sunglasses, hat, sleeping bag or bedding (rustic cabin accommodations), sunscreen, bug spray and, of course, a camera to "catch" the fishing highlights and the fabulous scenery! If you don't have or can't borrow some of these items, please let us know and we can help you out for a small rental fee.

Cost: $750 + tax.
(6% ID tax, 3% federal)
Meals and rustic cabin
accommodations included
